

TWO TEAMS DROPPED OUT

HAMPS AND COLTS QUIT THE SCRANTON LEAGUE.

The Imperials Also Expected to Fall Out—Meeting Called for Sunday to Consider the Situation—Franklin's Won Two More Games Last Night and Still Lead—Big Scores Rolled Up by the Arlingtons and Imperials—South Side Team Took Two from Cambrians.

The Hamps and Colts teams dropped out of the Scranton Bowling league after last night's games, and it is understood that the Imperial team, from the Backus alleys, will also drop out.

The Imperials and Colts teams, both of which are from the Backus alleys, were dropped out, so it is said, because of the tournament now in progress there, which necessitates open alleys every night in the week.

The Imperials kept up their winning streak last night by taking two games from the Becker team. The third game was a tie, each team making 747. The Becker team won the deciding game by a big margin. The score:

High score—Colts, 753. High average—Colts, 173.23.

Splendid rolling was done on the Backus alleys between the Arlingtons and the Imperials. The former team had thirteen more pins to its credit but the latter took two out of the three games. The final work of Roll Meister, Moore and Hopkins was loudly applauded by the large crowd in attendance. The score:

High score—Meister, 224. High average—Hopkins, 191.

The South Side team is getting there these days. It took three straight games from the North Scranton Cambrians last night and made very good scores. Davis, of the Cambrians, rolled the best all around game. The score:

High score—Davis, 214. High average—Davis, 171.13.

The Colts were outclassed at every point by the Hamps team and didn't come any where near winning any of the three games rolled. The score:

McClave-Brooks Buildings. Plans for them are now being Officially Examined.

The new plant to be erected by McClave, Brooks & company on the Diamond flats will cover a vast surface area. Plans for the several buildings to be erected are now in the hands of Superintendent Brown, of the bureau of building inspection, awaiting his approval.

The largest building will be the foundry which will be 200x238 feet in size and which will cost $126,000. The machine shop and office will be 180x189 feet in size and will cost $33,000. Other buildings to be erected will be a pattern store, a boiler house, 38x24 feet, an oil house and a blacksmith shop.

The total cost of the buildings will be $50,000 and the contract for their construction has been awarded to Frank W. Meyer. The present plant of the company located on Seventh street will be abandoned when the new buildings are completed.

TENTS ARE WATERPROOF. One Very Commendable Feature of the Wallace Shows.

A promise frequently made by showmen is the assurance that their tents are water-proof, and so persistently has this promise been violated that few people put any faith in such a statement. However, those who have visited the Wallace shows in recent years, and have been caught in a rainstorm, will corroborate its statement that the tents used by the great Wallace shows are thoroughly water-proof, and will turn almost any rain that will not penetrate an ordinary roof.

The Wallace shows will exhibit in this city on Friday, May 23.

JENKINS-WASHBURN. Wedding Ceremony Was Performed in St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

The wedding of Harry S. Jenkins, of the drug firm of George W. Jenkins & Co., and Miss Franc Beatrice Washburn, daughter of Mrs. Luella M. Washburn, of 629 Quincy avenue, was solemnized at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Luke's Episcopal church, Wyoming avenue, by the Rev. Rogers Israel, in the presence of many invited relatives, friends and guests.

The church was especially decorated for the event, and presented a very pretty appearance. Prof. J. Willis Conant, the organist, played the wedding marches. The bride's gown was a charming creation of white chiffon and lace, over white silk, with sleeves and gamp of lace. The maid of honor, Miss Bessie Reel, of Park Place, wore white mousseline over white silk and trimmed with rose point lace. The groomsmen were Harry A. Mott, of State college, and the ushers were Fred W. Strong, Will Lewis, Arch Brown, and B. F. Maxey, of Wilkes-Barre.

Following the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the parish house adjoining, where an informal reception was held, and after congratulations had been given, the party went to the home of the bride, where luncheon was enjoyed. There the array of gifts exhibited were many and beautiful, particularly the linen, silver, cut-glass and china ware.

At 6 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins left for the Central Railroad of New Jersey for Philadelphia and Atlantic City, and after June 1 will be at home at 217 South Hyde Park avenue.

The bride is an estimable and popular young woman, and the groom is one of the best known and most highly esteemed young men in West Scranton.

BEAUTIFUL SUMMER HOMES NEAR SCRANTON. Men Who Are Causing a Transformation to Be Wrought North of the Mountain.

What Tuxedo is to New York, the region in and about Waverly, Glenburn and Dalton promises, eventually to be to Scranton.

Many of the citizens of Scranton who have wealth and a taste for country life have, of late, been acquiring extensive tracts of farm land in the north-of-the-mountain region with a view of establishing for themselves country homes. Among these are E. L. Fuller, president of the International Salt company and railroad magnate; C. D. Simpson and T. H. Watkins, of Scranton, who are well known capitalists; J. A. Linen, president of the First National bank; Henry Belin, jr., banker and cashier of the County Savings bank; James P. Dickson, railroad man; C. S. Woolworth, merchant; A. J. Casey, of the Central Pennsylvania Brick company.

Mr. Fuller has purchased the Clemmons farm and fifty acres of the Coray farm, besides smaller tracts necessary to the rounding out of the tract, the whole making 298 acres. It includes a good portion of Lily lake. Eventually, Mr. Fuller proposes to acquire all of Lily lake. The cottage which ex-Sheriff Clemmons recently built on the farm, will be used temporarily by the Fullers for their summer residence.

It is being enlarged and improved at an expense equal to the original cost of the cottage. Next year the cottage will be supplanted by a country house of magnificent proportions. Plans for its construction have been completed and submitted but not yet adopted.

Mr. Casey is a large farmer, and in the direction of a professional landscape gardener is at work laying out the grounds, building roads, planting trees and shrubbery and erecting rustic embellishments. This work will be completed this year.

Plans are also being prepared for stock and poultry houses, stables, creamery and the like. They will likely be constructed this year.

The overlooking Dalton location on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western road, Mrs. Fuller selected the site. She has travelled very extensively but nowhere she has declared, has she seen a more delightful place. The landscape gardener, who has had a wide experience in his work says the site is a most beautiful one and offers rare opportunity for picturesque gardening.

Mr. Simpson has taken the Maloney farm at Waverly and proposes to make of it a very inviting home. Recently the Waverly borough council granted him permission to close up a road which divided his farm. He has plans for a fine country home and expects it will be ready for occupancy before the year is out.

Mr. Watkins' place is at Glenburn. It is confined mainly in the Frank Johnson farm. Like Messrs. Fuller and Simpson he proposes to greatly beautify the place and erect a handsome rural residence.

Mr. Linen has been making his summer home at Dalton for a number of years. Mr. Belin has taken the old Van Vleet farm at Glenburn. Mr. Casey, Mr. Christy, Mr. Woolworth and Mr. Casey, each have an extensive tract in the same region.

When all these and other Scrantonians who contemplate locating there have become permanently established it is likely that extensive improvements will be made to the public roads of the region, and that various other general conveniences will result.

The country is one of the most beautiful imaginable in scenery, and all that goes to make up an ideal rural residence place.

STAGE NOTES. The Pennsylvania railroad has settled out of court the suit brought by Josephine Hall to recover the value of diamonds stolen on one of the trains. The sum was $8,200.

William T. Carleton, the well-known baritone, who was injured in a railroad wreck recently, will give a benefit at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, next month by the Latin club. Raymond Hitchcock at Providence last week sang a verse in his typical song about the beef trust. It included several of the butchers and he was applauded after the performance and given a black eye.

WILLIAMSPORT-LEBANON. Williamsport, May 7.—The local defeated Lebanon here today in a game in which the kicking of the visitors was a feature. Both pitchers did effective work. Score:

AVENGED THE DEFEAT. Local Team Took Yesterday's Game from Wilkes-Barre by a Brilliant Finish.

The Scranton players kept their resolution to take yesterday's game from Wilkes-Barre. Witte was in the box for the locals, and it was largely due to his pitching that Scranton was able to win.

Wilkes-Barre had the game practically won up to the seventh inning, when the Scranton players pulled themselves together with a supreme effort, and assisted by the rosters, managed to get five runs.

At one stage of the game it looked as if Scranton was going down with a big goose-egg to her credit. With the score five to four Wilkes-Barre came to the bat in the last half of the ninth with the determination to win out. But Witte showed the kind of stuff he was made of and Wilkes-Barre was retired without the coveted scores.

Schmitz played a rattling good game at first, and if the ground had not been so slippery he would have done even better. Ramey did fine work back of the plate.

There is one thing Scranton is sadly in need of, and that is a few men that know how to coach. If the coaches had attended to their business properly yesterday the Scranton score would have been larger. The score:
